

Resource 1

Look at the resource below, which shares some information about Mount Everest.

Mount Everest is in southern Asia. It is located in the Himalayan mountain range between Nepal and Tibet (China).

Does any of the information surprise you?
Is there anything else you would like to find out?

Did you know?

- Mount Everest is about 8848 metres (29028 feet) high.
- It was named in 1865 after British surveyor and geographer, Sir George Everest.
- On average, it takes 2 months to climb Mount Everest.
- The top of Mount Everest was first reached in 1953.
- The average temperature is -37°C .